DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

Applicant's election without traverse of Group II (claims 10-16) in the reply filed on 1/05/2006 is acknowledged.

Claims 1-9 are withdrawn from further consideration pursuant to 37 CFR 1.142(b) as being drawn to a nonelected invention, there being no allowable generic or linking claim.

Information Disclosure Statement

The information disclosure statement (IDS) that was submitted on 11/02/2001 is in compliance with the provisions of 37 CFR 1.97. Accordingly, the examiner is considering the information disclosure statement.

Although it appears the reference Melcher (5,766,791) does not correlate with the scope of this invention, Applicant is requested to check this reference's relevance to this application.

Claim Objections

Claim 10 is objected to because of the following informalities: The reference to the "counter" in c) is a lack of antecedent basis issue, the term "counter" is not referenced previously. Examiner will interpret the "counter" to be related to the medical device means. Appropriate correction is required.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

(e) the invention was described in a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent, or on an international application by another who has fulfilled the requirements of paragraphs (1), (2), and (4) of section 371(c) of this title before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent.

The changes made to 35 U.S.C. 102(e) by the American Inventors Protection Act of 1999 (AIPA) and the Intellectual Property and High Technology Technical Amendments Act of 2002 do not apply when the reference is a U.S. patent resulting directly or indirectly from an international application filed before November 29, 2000. Therefore, the prior art date of the reference is determined under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) prior to the amendment by the AIPA (pre-AIPA 35 U.S.C. 102(e)).

Claims 10-14, and 16 rejected under 35 U.S.C 102(e) as being anticipated by Tacklind et al. (5,704,366). Tacklind et al. discloses a system for monitoring and reporting medical measurements.

Regarding claim 10, Tacklind et al. discloses a portable medical device with a sensing means (col 4, ln 15) with a recording and communication means (Figure 1). The medical state is reported by the medical sensing means (col 5, ln 21). The time and date are placed with the data sets (col 5 ln 15-38) and is capable of being configured with a wave energy means (col 11, ln 26).

Regarding claim 11, Tacklind et al. discloses a human response system (col 4, ln 25).

Regarding claims 12-13, Tacklind et al. discloses the medical information is transmitted from the unit to the base (col 7, ln 1; Figure 1).

Regarding claims 14 and 16, Tacklind et al. discloses a remote monitoring station that integrates medical data sets and interprets them (col 4, ln 10-30) and uses an error checking protocol (col 7, ln 27).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claim 15 is rejected under 35 U.S.C 103(a) as being unpatentable over Tacklind et al. in view of Evers et al. (5,558,638). Tacklind et al. meets the claim limitations as described above but does not include a timely transmission time between the base and unit.

However, Evers et al. teaches a home health parameter monitoring system. The reference teaches the use of transmission data sets that are sent under certain time periods to account for signal loss or equipment failure (col 8, ln 64).

At the time of the invention, it would have been obvious to use the repetitive transmission system of Evers et al. with the system of Tacklind et al. The addition of the data transmission provides the system with the ability to resend data and maintain a link and keep trying in case the link is not established in a timely manner to maintain communications. Both references are analogous in the art and with the instant invention; therefore, a combination is proper. Therefore, one skilled in the art would have combined the teachings in the references in light of the disclosure of Evers et al.
